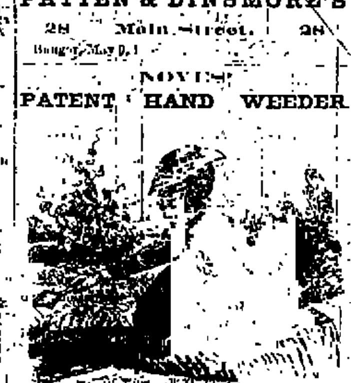
NOYES'
PATENT HAND WEEDER



This new and valuable labor saving implement is now offered to the public with the most confident assurance that, as an effective weeder, it leaves nothing for the agriculturist or florist to desire.
That we do not overstate its merits will appear from the following quotation from a recent letter of Peter Henderson, the well known seedsman and florist of Bergen, N. J. "I think it decidedly the best thing I have ever used in the way of a weeder. My old foreman, who has, for the past twelve years been at the head of my vegetable department, though strongly prejudiced against all 'patents,' says, 'It will save at least 50 per cent. of our labor in weeding.' I think it will do even better than that, particularly in root crops, that require thinning out, such as beets, turnips, onions, parsnips or carrots."
Ladies who cultivate flower gardens will find the "Weeder" to be "just the thing" to relieve the labor and thus enhance the pleasure of their employment among the plants and flowers. For Sale at all Seed and Hardware Stores. ALBERT NOYES.

THE FIRST BULL RUN FIGHT.

A. H. Stephens in the first volume of his "War Between the States," having attributed the failure of the Confederate troops to advance after the battle of Manassas, to the action of Jefferson Davis, a correspondent of the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion publishes the following correspondence bearing on the subject:

The writer says, "The original of this correspondence has been in my possession since … and is … probably have remained among the … hidden things of the Confederacy if the story, often repeated by penny-a-liners and venal scribblers, had not found an enduring place in so imposing a work as the history of the war by the Confederate States Vice-President. On the testimony of Gen. J. E. Johnston, it is established, that if the victory at Manassas was succeeded by a fatal blunder, as the historian intimates his belief, it was not attributable to President Davis. The historical value of the correspondence is enhanced by its revelation of the real causes that prevented an advance of the Confederates after their success at Manassas."

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 3, 1861.

Gen. J. E. Johnston, Commanding Department of the Potomac:

SIR: Reports have been and are being widely circulated to the effect that I prevented Gen. Beauregard from pursuing the enemy after the battle of Manassas, and had subsequently restrained him from advancing on Washington City. Though such statements may have been made merely for my injury, and in that view their notice might be postponed to a more convenient season, they have acquired importance from the fact that they have served to create distrust, to excite disappointment, and must embarrass the administration in its further efforts to reinforce the armies of the Potomac and generally to provide for the public defense. For these public considerations, I call upon you, as the Commanding General, and as a party to all the conferences held by me on the 21st and 22d of July, to say whether I obstructed the pursuit of the enemy after the victory of Manassas, or have ever objected to an advance or other active operation which it was feasible for the army to undertake.

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,
JEFFERSON DAVIS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, CENTREVILLE, Nov. 10, 1861.

To His Excellency, the President:

SIR: I have the honor to receive your letter of the 3d inst., in which you call upon me as the Commanding General and as party to all the conferences held by you on the 21st and 22d of July, to say:

Whether you obstructed the pursuit after the victory of Manassas?

Or have ever objected to an advance or other active operations which it was feasible for the army to undertake?

To the first question I reply, no. The pursuit was "obstructed" by the enemy's troops at Centreville, as I have stated in my official report. In that report I have also said why no advance was made upon the enemy's capital, (for reasons) as follows:

The apparent freshness of the United States troops at Centreville, which checked our pursuit; the strong forces occupying the works near Georgetown, Arlington and Alexandria; the certainty, too, that Gen. Patterson, if needed, would reach Washington with his army of more than 30,000 sooner than we could; and the condition and inadequate means of the army in ammunition, provision and transportation, prevented any serious thoughts of advancing against the capital.

To the second question I reply that it has never been feasible for the army to advance further than it has done—to the line of Fairfax Court-house, with its advanced posts at Upton's, Munson's and Mason's Hills. After a conference at Fairfax Court-house with the three senior general officers, you announced it to be impracticable to give this army the strength which those officers considered necessary to enable it to assume the offensive—Upon which I drew it back to its present position. Most respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
J. E. JOHNSTON.

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—The Maine Historical Society has become recognized as one of the institutions of the state. In 1822, the Portland Argus states, as the State Government had become established, the Hon. Ashur Ware, Secretary of State, suggested the formation of "the Historical Society, whose business it was declared to be, "to collect and preserve as far as the state of their funds would admit whatever in their opinion may tend to explain and illustrate any department of civil, ecclesiastical, and natural history, especially in this State and of the United States." Forty-nine names were selected from different parts of the State, most prominent at that time in the department of law, letters, theology and medicine, and prominent in public affairs, to constitute the society, the most venerable of which were Judge Sewall of York, then in the 80th year of his age; Dr. Benjamin Vaughan of Hallowell, in his 74th year; Prentiss Mellen, Chief Justice at that time aged 58, and Judge Bridge of Augusta, aged 58; while the youngest members at the time were Hon. Ether Shepley, aged 33 years, and Peleg Sprague at that time 26. Four only of the original members remain alive, the venerable Judge Ware, now in his 80th year, Ex-Chief Justice Weston of Augusta, of the same age, Hon. Peleg Sprague now in his 78th year, now resident of Boston, and Ex-Chief Justice Shepley now in the enjoyment of a green, old age in his 82nd year.

The seven volumes published by the Maine Historical Society as its first series prior to 1827 are works of very great interest. During the last ten years, the labors of the society have been largely directed to the investigation of the earliest discovery of the coast of Maine and the struggle of rival races for its possession, and the great work of Dr. Kohl, published in 1869, has attracted attention throughout this country and Europe, devoted to the discovery of the north-east coast of North America. The Territory of Maine was the theatre of all the early movements to possess the country. Other volumes of equal interest are soon to follow.

GOOD ADVICE.—Ask no woman her age.—Never joke with a widow. Never contradict a man that stutters. Be civil to all rich uncles and aunts. Your old hat, of course, for an evening party. Always sit next the carver, if you can, at dinner. Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being you dye your whiskers. Wind up your conduct like your watch, once every day, examining minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow." Make friends with the steward on board a steamer; there's no knowing how soon you may be in his power. Write not one letter more than you can help; the man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr, tied, not to the stake, but to the post.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Hon. Sidney Perham

OF PARIS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES TO CONGRESS.

1st District—Hon. JOHN LYNCH, Portland.

3d District—Hon. J. G. BLAINE, of Augusta.
4th District—Hon. J. A. PETERS, of Bangor.

CONGRESSIONAL MANNERS.

We copy from an editorial in the N. Y. Evening Mail, a paper conducted with great dignity and discretion, the following merited rebuke of the recent unprovoked attack upon Hon. John A. Peters in the House of Representatives.

Personal altercations are generally unfortunate for both parties, but the facts in this case, to which the Mail bears its testimony, show that Mr. Peters simply repelled unwarranted aspersions to which it was impossible for him to submit without a total surrender of self-respect:

It is a pity that the spirit of what Sterne called the "small, sweet courtesies of life," does not attain a larger recognition in Congressional discussions. Almost every day—certainly every week—parliamentary decorum is outraged and the public sense affronted by violence of language and indulgence in personalities on the part of Representatives and Senators, for which there can be no possible excuse, and which can have no other effect than to injure the cause in which arguments so unworthy are employed. It is bad enough, in all conscience, to waste precious time in frivolous discussions which contemplate and reach no result, but when members so far forget themselves and the responsibilities of their position as the custodians of the national honor and the representatives of the national character, as to substitute abuse for argument, and asperse the motives instead of attempting to answer the logic of opponents, the spectacle becomes lamentable and humiliating in the last degree, and invites inevitably prompt and unsparing rebuke.

It is but just to say that this deterioration in Congressional manners is not confined to either party or to any particular class of members. The best and worthiest of our Representatives seem unable, at times, to resist the downward tendency and permit themselves to be drawn into the impetuous current. An illustration of this fact was furnished in the House of Representatives yesterday, when Mr. Dawes of Massachusetts, hitherto distinguished for his moderation and careful observance of the proprieties of debate, made what seems to be an entirely unjustifiable assault upon Mr. Peters of Maine. Mr. Peters, as appears from the report, favored an amendment to the Deficiency bill which makes provision for paying the Clerks of the House certain extra compensation voted them in the Thirty-ninth Congress, but which, after they had received the same, they were compelled to refund under the ruling of the law officer of the Treasury. Mr. Dawes, who opposed the amendment, upon this made a sweeping charge against Mr. Peters to the effect that his vote was always on the side "of the largest expenditures and the biggest jobs."

An accusation of this kind provoked, of course, an indignant retort, Mr. Peters pronouncing it "unqualifiedly untrue," a "foul aspersion" to which he could not submit. Mr. Dawes repeated his charges, and they were again denied, other members meanwhile adding to the confusion by aspersions upon Mr. Dawes, one characterizing him as "a clown." Surely there can be no two opinions as to the disgraceful character of this exhibition, and we are glad to see that even the members, other than the participants, almost unanimously condemn Mr. Dawes' hasty and ill-considered assault. Mr. Peters, although only in his second term, is looked upon as one of the strong men of the House, and his integrity never questioned. The feeling was so intense against Mr. Dawes, that he afterward withdrew his remarks, and consequently nothing of the scene will appear in the official reports of the debate. But it has gone to the country all the same, and will pursue the participants in its consequences and impressions far beyond the threshold of the Capitol in which these wrangles are so often enacted.

May we not hope that our Representatives will learn, some time, that the American people have an instinctive appreciation of true gentlemanliness, and regard as the worthiest expositor of the national characteristics, not the hasty, pugnacious, muscular athlete of debate, always eager to accuse and attack, but the man who advocates his principles and aims with a serene and lofty consciousness of his own and others' rights, and in the same manly spirit, but with a sturdiness that does not bend or break before any blow, defends himself and his positions when assailed.

FREE RUM IN NEW YORK. We recently alluded to the arguments adduced by the N. Y. World to prove that the increase of crime and disorder in that city, immediately following the repeal of the Excise law, should be attributed to natural causes, such as the hot weather, lack of employment on the Sabbath, etc., rather than the unusual facilities offered for drunkenness by the removal of restrictions upon the liquor traffic. The following statement from the N. Y. Times furnishes statistics which speak louder than special pleading, and the comparison of present arrests with the average while the law was in force, effectually disposes of the attempt to shift the responsibility from those who assumed it by repealing the only safeguard against the excesses which now alarm the community, and which are rapidly going from bad to worse:

The week ending July 8 was unparalleled in the history of New York in the number of arrests which the police were compelled to make in order to preserve the peace of the city. During the ascendency of the Metropolitan Excise law, the arrests decreased until they averaged a little less than 1,100, but no sooner was that law repealed, and the reign of free rum inaugurated, than they began steadily and rapidly to increase until a short time since, when the city was affrighted at a grand total for the week of 1,867; but the following exhibit for the past week eclipses even that startling record:

Saturday, July 2	601
Sunday, July 3	208
Monday, July 4	435
Tuesday, July 5	620
Wednesday, July 6	248
Thursday, July 7	229
Friday, July 8	245
Total	2,387

The arrests on the Fourth of July are more than 100 greater than on the previous anniversary, and, notwithstanding the quiet of last Sunday, as compared with the one immediately preceding, the arrests on that day were three times greater than the average of Sunday arrests while the late Excise law was in force.

THE "FORWARD" AFFAIR. The following is a list of the killed and wounded on the U. S. S. Mohican, in the expedition which destroyed the Forward: Killed—Ensign Wainwright and Coxswain James Donnell; wounded—F. W. Townsend, C. B. Scott, Thos. Dailey, J. C. McIntyre, Wm. Higgins and John Welch. The remains of Ensign Wainwright will be sent to New York. Lieut. Brown, who commanded the expedition, says the Governor of Sinaloa, Consul Sisson and other prominent persons urged Capt. Low to destroy the Forward. She was not only a piratical vessel in Mexican waters but intended to seize our Panama steamers. The expedition found the steamer aground and it being impossible to move her she was fired and burned to the water's edge.

THE CHINESE QUESTION. The Democratic General Committee of Kings County, New York, on Tuesday night, pledged themselves, earnestly and emphatically, to protest against bringing Coolies into competition with American workmen, and their high Christian civilization. Sir ... Rousey published a letter in New York yesterday, upon the Chinese Question, in reply to Mr. Swinton, and urging that the most sensible action to be taken is to import workmen and reap the advantages of their labor. Harvest is ready for the sickle, and we need more laborers to let them labor across [illegible] ... and we will bid them welcome. [illegible] The Rev. Peter Parker, of Framingham, Mass., also sums up his views on the Chinese question. [illegible] He urges every citizen [illegible] to protest against the importation of [illegible] of male Chinese by contract, however advantageous to the contractor, who [illegible] facilities through agents in China, by fair means or by foul, to fill [illegible] the commodity. He says the [illegible] fid is in the pocket.

THE NEW YORK RIOT. The [illegible] Park, N. Y., yesterday, assumed [illegible] proportions than at first supposed. Superintendent Jourdan states that the Orangemen played party tunes, used insulting epithets and finally threw stones and fired several shots at the workmen, who then assailed them with spades, shovels and every available weapon. The Orangemen used revolvers, nearly all of them being armed. Police Capt. Helme says the workmen were the aggressors, and after two or three hundred of them had stormed the Park and driven out three thousand Orangemen, the fight was continued in skirmishes throughout the vicinity, in which some two hundred wounded, and several killed. Three of the workmen are known to have been killed, and five more, who were taken to Bellevue Hospital are reported in a dying condition. The wounded Orangemen were removed in carriages, so that their condition is unknown, although it is believed none of them were killed. The police surrounded the spot and succeeded in quelling the riot by a vigorous use of their clubs. Subsequently the cars conveying the Orangemen down town were attacked, and several persons wounded, and the cars badly damaged. A man, named Thomas Kane, was fatally stabbed by Orangemen in Central Park after the riot. It is stated that the police knew that the outbreak was premeditated, but neglected to notify Supt. Jourdan.

LETTER FROM BELFAST.

BELFAST, July 13, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

A sudden fall of rain yesterday caught all our farmers napping, and a large amount of hay nearly ready for the barn, was thoroughly wetted. However it has cleared off splendidly this morning, and the promise is more than good for fair weather.

A serious accident occurred in the town of Thorndike yesterday. Three men and a boy were precipitated from the eaves of a barn to the ground, by the giving way of a staging. One man and the boy were but slightly injured. The other two men were much injured,—Mr. R. D. Hunt having his arm and shoulder badly broken, and Mr. G. W. Pendleton receiving serious internal injuries.

Alfred Elson, the pedestrian, hailing from your city, attempted to run ten miles in one hour on the park here last Monday evening. He made 9½ miles in just an hour, and the ten miles in 63 minutes and 10 seconds, lacking only 3 minutes and a quarter of performing the feat. He is well up on his muscle.

The Passagassawakeag B. B. Club, of this city have formally challenged the Dirigos of Augusta, to play a match game for the junior championship of the State and the possession of the gold mounted bat—the emblem thereof. The time of the game has not yet been fixed.

Mr. Leander Davis, a workman on the new ship here, fell senseless suddenly last Monday and has not yet recovered.

Lemuel Guptill had his hand injured by being caught in the machinery of the paper mill yesterday.

There is beginning to be a little "feeling around" by those interested in the result of the Republican Co. Convention, which will be held here about the middle of August. There are four prominent candidates for nomination for one office—Clerk of Courts, and the present incumbent has not yet expressed his willingness to rotate.

Mr. O. M. Shaw's "McClellan" made a half mile in 1.16, on the park here Monday evening.

QUIDAM.

A San Francisco telegram states that the Harpending prospecting expedition which left May 6th, for Arizona, was surrounded by the Indians when 40 miles east from Tucson. They cut their way through and retreated towards Florence, having several wounded, but claim that thirty of the Indians were killed. The savages were armed with heavy Spencer rifles and clothed in federal uniforms.

The Portland Press states that a call is issued for the temperance voters of Cumberland County to meet in Mass Convention in that city on the 28th inst., for the purpose of consulting as to the most expedient mode of political action in the approaching canvass for county and other subordinate officers, and for the transaction of any other business that may be proposed.

LETTER FROM WATERVILLE.

WATERVILLE, July 12, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

The annual prize exhibition of Waterville Classical Institute was held on Monday evening at the Baptist church.

Two prizes were offered to the young gentlemen for excellence in speaking. The same number of prizes were likewise offered to the young ladies for original essays. The speaking was uniformly excellent. The selections, however, were not sufficiently varied to relieve the exercise from something like tediousness.

The essays gave evidence of care and thought in their preparation, and were delivered in a very graceful and effective style. The Declamation prizes were awarded to Henry W. Dudley of Vassalboro and Charles F. Young of Corinna. Among the young ladies Miss Estelle E. Sawyer of Waterville received the first prize and Ollie W. Stanley of Sidney the second.

Yesterday was a gala day with the young ladies who have just completed a four years course of study at the above mentioned Institute. The commencement exercises were held in the afternoon at the church. The graduating class, eight in number, read their essays which would have done honor to any of our College graduating classes. The diplomas were conferred by Mr. Hanson, the popular teacher and principal of the Institute.

The Commencement Concert given by Chandler's Band of Portland, closed the evening's entertainment.

Waterville has reason to feel proud of her institutions of learning. With the University and Institute situated in the village with an excellent system of public schools, none of her children need grow up in ignorance.—But it is a disgraceful fact, that a large proportion of the children of foreign parentage can neither read nor write. Scores and even hundreds of these children are growing from childhood to manhood under the very shadows of these institutions who will never take the first step towards enlightenment, whose education will be rather in the school of intemperance and evil.

A Broadside for Humbugs.
Incompetence and assurance generally go hand in hand, and of all the tribes of pretentious know-nothings with which society is afflicted, the unscientific "medicine men" who attempt to tamper with the health of the community, are the most dangerous and the most impudent.
So much by way of Text. Now for a special and particular application.
It appears that a mushroom growth of so-called "Bitters," is springing up under different names in the various localities, particularly in the Southern and Western States, which the vendors have the hardihood to recommend to our going people upon whom they think they can impose, as a substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, long recognized by every class as the purest and best medicated, stimulant and invigorant the world affords.
The concoctions referred to being composed of worthless material, offer a larger margin for profit than that Celebrated Tonic, and hence the anxiety of dollar worshipping dealers to foist them upon the public in its place.
But "forewarned is forearmed," and all parties whom these distinguished things are endeavoring to coax and inveigle into substituting trash for a standard remedy, are hereby informed of the selfish and sordid motives which influence the representations in question.
The great popularity and vast sales of Hostetter's Bitters cannot, of course, be seriously impaired by these "tricks of trade," but as the debilitated and suffering have a direct interest in the matter, it is only an act of common humanity to put them on their guard.

TO THE Whig & Courier.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, July 13.

SENATE.

The annual post route bill was amended and passed.

Mr. Sherman, from the Conference Committee on the tax and tariff bill, submitted a report which was adopted. He stated that the more important of the Senate amendments were agreed to by the House.

Relative to the tariff on sugar, the committee reported the following rates:—On all molasses, five cents per gallon; on all raw or Muscovado sugars, not below No. 7 Dutch standard in color, 1½ cents per pound; on all above No. 7 and not above No. 10, 2 cents per pound; above No. 10 and below No. 13, 2½ cents per pound; on all sugars above No. 13 and not above No. 20, Dutch standard in color, 3½ cents per pound; on all sugars above No. 20, 4 cents per pound.

The duties on books and bessemer steel remained as passed by the Senate. All Assistant Assessors now engaged in assessing taxes, who are stricken out by the bill, are to be immediately discharged, and Supervisor of Districts are to be consolidated.

The gross receipts and tonnage taxes are both repealed.

Mr. Sherman also submitted the report of the conference committee on the funding bill, which was adopted.

The committee provided for three classes of bonds as follows:—Two hundred millions at 5 per cent; $300,000,000, at 4½ per cent., and $1,000,000,000 at 4 per cent.

The expenses of the negotiations have been fixed at ½ per cent., and under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The seventh section, relating to national banks has been stricken out, leaving merely a voluntary funding bill. The power of national banks had been shown in the House, but he (Sherman) would be prepared at all times to require national banks to take the bonds proposed by the bill. The reduction of taxes effected by the tax bill would amount to $70,000,000.

Mr. Sumner offered a resolution instructing the military committee to inquire into the treatment of J. W. Smith, a colored cadet at West Point, with the power to sit during recess, which went over until to-morrow.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill giving a bounty to soldiers honorably discharged, that entered the service between May 4th and July 22d, 1861, and to the widow, children, father and mother of soldiers who died in the service enlisted for one year. He thought it would cost about ten million.

A bill was passed for the relief of the Kentucky University, making an appropriation to pay for the destruction of buildings during the war.

The bill to grant a pension to Mrs. Lincoln was briefly considered, and an amendment to give her $10,000 in lieu of a pension, was rejected.

At 2 o'clock the Senate went into an executive session.

EVENING SESSION.

Executive session continued till 8 p. m. when the deficiency appropriation bill was taken up and various amendments were agreed to.

Passed.

Bill was passed exempting pork-packers, lard renderers and persons engaged in smoking hams from tax as manufacturers.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

The House took up the motion made yesterday by Mr. Butler of Mass., to suspend the rules and adopt a resolution directing House visitors to West Point to investigate the complaint of the ill treatment of a colored cadet.

Mr. Farnsworth of Ill., objected to the provision of the resolution relating to the stenographer and clerks.

Mr. Butler withdrew the provision and the resolution was adopted 107 to 51.

Mr. Slocum of N. Y., moved to suspend the rules in order to take from the Speaker's table the Senate amendments to the House bill to fix the time for the election of Congress. He announced his intention to move a non-concurrence in the amendments and to ask for a Com. of Conference. The motion was rejected 94 to 97.

The Senate amendments to the Miscellaneous Appropriation bill were non-concurred in and referred to a Conference Committee. A Conference Committee was also ordered on the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Schenck from the Conference Committee on the tax and tariff bill, made a report which having been read, he proceeded to explain. He calculated that the bill would reduce the internal taxes $50,000,000, and the custom receipts, $20,000,000, and he would not hesitate to say that the reduction to be effected by the bill, compared with the receipts of last year, would be over $80,000,000. He regretted that the House had consented to strike out special taxes on brokers and bankers and their sales. Hereafter all Wall St. operators would be free from any burden whatever, and in source of revenue from which millions had been and might be obtained without interfering with any of the fair legitimate industry of the country was swept away.

Mr. Brooks of N. Y. repeated his assertion in the early part of the session that the reduction of revenue should be at least one hundred millions, and severely criticised the bill. He said it was an increase of duty on wools, on flax, hackled or dressed; on pig iron 7 dollars per ton; on wrought and scrap iron 7 to 8 dollars per ton; on sword blades, on steel bars and on Bessemer steel, the control of which was in the hands of three trustees, who had a patent for 12 years. The duty on wire was enormously increased mainly for the benefit of a large manufactory in Worcester, Mass. There was at least a bonus of $300,000 to that Worcester manufactory. The duty had been increased on telegraph wires, mill-stone, building stone, and marble. There was a large increase of duty on hair cloth exclusively for the benefit of a thriving little village in Rhode Island.

Mr. Banks remarked that Mr. Brooks was entirely mistaken in supposing that there was an increased duty on hair cloth, for he had just received a dispatch from a hair cloth manufacturer in his own district, stating that the proposed change would be disastrous to their business, and asking him to resist it in their names.

After further remarks by Messrs. Brooks and Cox against the bill, the report was agreed to 143 to 49.

The Conference Committee's report on the Funding bill was agreed to 137 to 35.

Messrs. Dawes, Beckwith and Sargent appointed as a Conference Committee on the Miscellaneous, and Messrs. Dickey, Logan and Archer on the Army appropriation bill.

A joint resolution suspending the use of whiskey metres at distilleries till further action by Congress, and the motions to suspend the rules for the purpose of taking up the General Amnesty and Southern Pacific Railroad bills having been rejected, Mr. Arnell of Tenn., from the Committee on Education and Labor, made a report on the charges against Gen. Howard, and asked that the majority and minority resolutions be read and ordered to be printed, stating that he would call them up for action at one o'clock to-morrow.

The Speaker intimated that it would be nigh impossible to have a discussion on the matter to-morrow and action could be taken on the resolution now as well as then.

After some objections, in the midst of much disorder, the majority and minority resolutions were read.

The majority declare that the House acquits Mr. Howard of the groundless and causeless charges lately preferred against him and declares and records its judgment that in successfully organizing and administering with fidelity, integrity and ability the Freedmen's Bureau, he is deserving of the gratitude of the American people.

The report was signed by Messrs. Arnell, Beaty, Boar, Townsend, Hamilton, Burdett, Tuper and Prince.

The resolutions by the minority, Messrs. McNeely and Rogers, directs that a copy of the testimony be referred to the Secretary of War with directions to order a court martial for a trial of Gen. Howard, and recommend the passage of a joint resolution directing the Secretary to take necessary measures to secure the interests of the government in the Howard University, the University building grounds and lands held by the corporation, which were paid for with public funds, and directing the Secretary of the Treasury to take necessary measures to recover any moneys drawn by Gen. Howard from the U. S. Treasury as Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau and disbursed in aid of churches, religious associations and educational institutions, not in pursuance of the law.

Both the reports and evidence, covering nearly four thousand pages, were ordered to be printed.

The question being on assigning to-morrow for the consideration of the matter, much opposition was made, and without disposing of the question the House adjourned.

HOW TO HAVE GOOD FISH.—We all know how much inferior is a fish prepared for the table after it has been caught, compared to one that has been allowed to die. Few, however, are aware of the cause of the difference. The [illegible] The fish transferred to the [illegible] water is killed before it is cooked, and the one that dies is discarded, [illegible] not in a proper condition to eat when brought to market. The difference between them is exactly that between an animal killed by the butcher and one that dies of fever, for the supply of oxygen that the fish receives when out of its native element [illegible] produces fever, of which he perishes.

The superiority of the fish of Holland is so remarked by all who eat them—and the reason is that [illegible] as they are caught the Dutch fishermen stick an awl into their heads, and they are [illegible] brought to market with flabby [illegible], as in England and in this country.

Not only the flavor of the flesh thus killed far superior to those that die of fever, but the effect upon the human system is not injurious. [illegible] to hear the remark that fish makes people feverish. So they do as would [illegible] of any animal that dies of fever.

We trust that some of our fishermen will see this article and profit by it. Let the fish they take be each killed with an awl driven in the brain. It will not take a second to do this, and it will be found that the flavor of their killed flesh will be so far superior to that of those which die of fever that they will be bought in preference, and that after a while people will buy no fish but those that have been killed.

Try the experiment, fisherman, and you will be richly rewarded.

"A FINE BUSINESS OPENING."

A gentleman in this city received the other day the following letter, which offers a fine chance to persons out of employment, as by following its instructions the State will give them work for a term of years:

GENTS:—I desire the services of a keen and reliable gentleman in your locality as agent for a business which cannot fail to yield a profit of a least $5,000 a month if rightly managed. The capital required for a start is comparatively insignificant, and, as you are subject to no risk, you can make money as easily and as safely as in a legitimate business, and in ten-fold quantities. You were recommended to me by a travelling agent for a large commercial house in this city. He is an intimate friend of ours, and is engaged in the same business himself. Otherwise I should not have risked the confidence I now repose in you. I have on hand a large quantity of $1, $2, and $5 Treasury notes, (queer). These bills are without exception, the best ever executed in the country, and cannot be detected, even by the ablest experts. They are the same size as the genuine, and printed on first class bank note paper, and are correctly numbered. The engraving is incomparable. Indeed no accomplishment in the art of engraving or of printing has been left untaxed to render you as safe in passing these bills as if you were passing good money. I put them up in packages containing different amounts. The price of a $500 package is $25—price of a $1,000 package is $500; price of a $5,000 package is $250. The money must be paid cash when you come on here or be sent in advance by express. If it suits you better I will send whatever amount you desire by express and you may pay for it in the office when it arrives. Of course I will pack it in the such way that no one will suspect the contents of the box. If one of you can come on, pray do so. An interview would be very desirable on my part. You will then have an opportunity to examine our stock at leisure, and be enabled to form a better idea as to the quality of it and the amount you desire to take away. Still, if your business engagements will not permit a visit endeavor to send all communications by express instead of by mail. Letters relating to this business should not be sent by mail. We shall have no agent within 500 miles of you; therefore the express agent will never suspect the nature of your business. I think I have said sufficient. But I must urge you to keep this matter a profound secret. I deal on the square; and if you remain true to me you will never regret it. As for myself, I manage the business in such a way that the shrewdest detective cannot get a clue on me. As long as you keep your mouth shut all will go well. As to detection in passing the bills it is impossible; for my work is first class and is equally as good as the genuine. Excuse the appearance of this letter. It is an impression taken on a new patent letter press, by which I can get 2 copies from a written letter.

Since writing the above my agent at Omaha called, and, after examining the stock, took nearly all the $1 bills I had worked off. Still, I shall have plenty more in a week. Now, Sir, if you take hold of this properly you can make an independent fortune in a year or less. Read the following instructions carefully. They are simple, and if you act according to them no mistake will be made:

If you come on, and desire to examine the stock carefully call at 73 Nassau street, office No. 2, up stairs. This is my private office and everything can be conducted here with secrecy and safety. Don't call in person at any other office. But, if you send money or any communication by express, direct to my other place, as follows:

WM. B. LOGAN,
No. 15 Dutch Street, New York.

THE

Central Railroad, of Iowa,

236 MILES IN LENGTH,

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This Company are now pushing their work forward with great rapidity, and the entire line necessary to connect St. Louis and St. Paul is graded and under contract to be finished this season. The fact that this enterprise has been undertaken by a combination of leading bankers and railroad capitalists of well known wealth, experience, and ability, insures its early completion and future success.

The road runs through the richest and most thickly settled portion of Iowa, and is built in the interests of the great Northern system of roads which centre at St. Paul. The of the Company are 7 per cent. Gold Interest, free of Government tax, and are issued for the very small amount of $16,000 per mile. For the present, the unsold portion are offered at 90 and accrued interest. The attention of investors is invited to the fact that the road is now nearly finished, and that the Security is therefore entitled to a high rank.

In our opinion, no class of investments has been found so uniformly safe and profitable as First Mortgage Bonds on completed railroads.

Of 236 [illegible] operating 30,000 miles of railroad in the Northern and Western States, on which there is a bonded debt of $502,000,000, we know of but two that do not pay their interest regularly.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Government, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present.

After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and we can recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

ADDRESS

NERVOUS

DEBILITATED,

Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick skum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the luster of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they never become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

BUCHU

Is the GREAT DIURETIC, and is a certain cure for all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaint, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon a prompt use of a reliable remedy.
